23rd Annual TNT Tournament Recap

Over 5 days the TNT Tournament saw 60 teams, 120 games, 750 players, 120 pizza/cinnamon buns consumed, over 50 officials and 300 volunteers! This tournament was by far one of the best that I have had the pleasure of being a part of. You couldn't walk five steps without seeing a kid smiling and having a good time. At the end of the day our goal is to ensure all players have the best time, playing the sport we all love.

A lot of hard work goes into putting on an event of this scale and this tournament would not have been possible without the continuous support from our TNT Committee, made up of James Bitonti, Jennifer Hanna, Mari Friend and Deb Gill. This was the best TNT Tournament that the NSWC has hosted in the past 23 years and it is in large part due to the enthusiasm and participation of all our volunteers. We could not have done it without all of you!

Thanks to all our sponsors, NSWC staff and initiation/novice parents for all your support, generosity, and enthusiasm at this year's 23rd Annual TNT Tournament. We're looking forward to next year already!

Emily Allen
TNT Tournament Coordinator

Employee Recognition Program!

NSWC believes in their employees! We believe that an amazing work culture and environment comes from great leadership. When leaders create a work culture that matches what they envision, it starts to become part of the company.

Last year, the Club began to roll out this vision to their employees. We built this program on the following 5 credentials:

1. The Club and their employees are aligned.
2. The Club fosters positive professional relationships.
3. The employees feel that they belong.
4. The Management and employees recognize accomplishments.
5. The employees feel pride for what they do.

Our monthly program allows management, members and employees to recognize each other for going above and beyond their daily roles. In our staff room, the nominations forms are put up on our recognition board for the remainder of the month for all staff to read. Everyone nominated gets a small token of appreciation and one lucky nomination randomly drawn gets a gift each month.

This has been a great introduction into empowering the team through recognition of the things they do to ensure that the Club is a great place to work and a great place to be.

Some special shout outs to some of the staff that have received multiple nominations in the past 12 months.

1. Emily Allen Hockey Administration, 5 nominations
2. Bob McCuaig Hockey Administration, 4 nominations
3. Zoga Shkurtaj Food and Beverage, Kitchen, 4 nominations

We also have had quarterly staff events, from celebrating birthdays, or recognizing individuals or departments for their accomplishments. This is a great way for everyone to socialize outside of their daily work routines. Learning more about those that we work with on a personal level builds trust and embodies the vision that we want the club and employees to be aligned to work towards great member and employee experiences 100% of the time. Soon, we will be acknowledging those that have worked at the Club for longer than 5 years.

Our Longservice awards in 2019 highlight the following individuals for their ongoing commitment and dedication.

Junior Tennis

Tennis Pro Nicole McLennan and some of the junior tennis team attended the 11th Annual "Little Mo" Internationals in Palm Beach Gardens Florida in December.

The "Little Mo" Internationals in Florida is the 3rd and final leg of the 2017 "Little Mo" Slam! In honor of Maureen "Little Mo" Connolly's 60th anniversary of winning the Grand Slam in 1953, MCB created the ultimate challenge in 2013 for any player to win the "Little Mo" Slam. If a player can win all three "Little Mo" Internationals (yellow ball division only) in the same year, the player will receive the tallest trophy ever given in junior tennis - a 6 foot tall trophy and the title of "Little Mo" Slam Champion! There have been six "Little Mo" players who have accomplished this great achievement in the past four years.

Representing NSWC were Artem Manov, Veronica Duncan, Miguel Lopez and Havana, Aiden and Angus Cameron who all played exceptionally well, playing against some of the best junior tennis players in North America.

The NSWC Tennis Pros are so very proud of all our junior members. To see their hard work and dedication to the sport pay off is a joy to see. Well done!

Artem Manov won 3rd boys 16 singles and was the winner of the boys 16 doubles.

Miguel Lopez

Veronica Duncan, finalist girls 14 singles

Santa's Breakfast

Another successful Santa's breakfast took place on December 8th with over 200 families attending. Chef Wesley and his team put out an incredible spread, the kids wrote their letters to Santa and of course got to visit with him personally too! We can't wait to see what next year has in store for one of the Club's most popular events.

A special thanks goes out to the Atom teams for helping to clear plates in an effort to raise funds in support of BC Children's Hospital.

Year-round hockey a growing dilemma for parents

Wayne Gretzky, arguably the greatest hockey player ever, never played hockey in the spring or summer as a child.

For years, Gretzky told reporters about how when the hockey season was over, he'd put his bag away and enjoyed baseball, lacrosse and tennis. For years he spoke about the importance of a being a multi-sport athlete and the dangers of hockey burnout.

The game has obviously undergone a tremendous evolution since Gretzky was a kid. Just watch the speed and fitness level of the current NHL game.

Gretzky knows the idea of putting away the equipment today is unthinkable. His family even operates a summer hockey camp in six North American cities.

In Canada, the hockey season never ends. There never seems to be safe time to put the bag away. Today, it's not uncommon for kids as young as six and seven to be on the ice 12 months a year.

During the steamy summer months, there is an endless array of camps for parents to choose from.

But the real growth has been in the months in between. The growth of spring hockey continues to explode.

Mark De Ciantas is the owner of Golden Glide Hockey and one of the players on Toronto's crowded spring hockey landscape.

The company, which runs clinics and camps during the regular season, operates seven spring teams at different age levels.

"There are more teams, no question, because anybody can put a spring team together. If you can access 12 players that want to play, you can put together a spring team," De Ciantas says.

"People think this is an elite thing. It's not anymore. Back let's say 15 years when I was playing, spring hockey was an elite thing, now it seems everybody plays spring hockey."

De Ciantas says the growth of spring hockey is simply a response to parental demand. Across the GTA there are hundreds of spring teams that play in 4-on-4 leagues or in various weekend tournaments, many in exotic locations across North America. A typical spring team will pack six practices and three or four tournament into a tight six week window.

"People realize now that it's a 12-month a year sport. You can't really take time off and expect get better," De Ciantas tells CBC Sports. "Every other kid is getting better playing 12 months of the year and if you are taking time off, you kind of fall behind." Research contradicts year-round hockey

Most of the research says that's actually not true, according to University of Toronto professor Katherine Tamminen. For overall long-term development, taking a break and trying another sport is actually a good idea. "I think we have developed a narrative around the need to specialize. That's the message being sold and told, but there isn't much research that supports that approach being better than playing other sports," Tamminen says.

"Taking some time off, playing other sport, developing different skills, being coached by different people, interacting with different adults, different groups of friends is all important to a child's development, as both a child and an athlete."

De Ciantas, however, says many parents aren't interested in that message. "I coach and I always encourage the kids to put the bag away for at least month. But a lot of the parents just don't see it that way and don't want to."

Jeremy Mandell never planned for his eight-year-old to play spring hockey. Now, he is playing on two teams. He says his son made the choice and is happy to be playing with friends.

"The reason we are doing it is you are basically cramming in 15 games into a month which is almost the equivalent of his regular season," Mandell says. "And they get a lot out of it. The kids I know improved a lot out of it."

It doesn't mean he's entirely comfortable with the idea. Mandell, who played high-level hockey growing up in Toronto, never played in the spring or summer.

"When I played there was really a mentality that you don't play in the spring or summer. When your season ends — win or lose — you're done until the [next] season starts," Mandell recalls. "There now seems to be a large portion of the kids playing spring hockey, especially the higher level kids and then a lot of those kids are playing on teams right through the summer. I personally think that's a mistake.

"I don't want my eight-year-old to become a one-sport athlete. I want him to play baseball, go to camp. I want him to take break from hockey and have a rounded social life."

It's a typical dilemma for hockey parents. Things like spring hockey have become part of the development suite that's seemingly necessary to compete at the highest level. Say no and risk your child falling behind. It's something De Ciantas hears all of the time.

"A lot of kids today are manufactured hockey players. They need to become multi-sport athletes. I don't think playing hockey 12 months a year is going to make you that much better."

Mint Julep

FEATURE RECIPE

Celebrate the Kentucky Derby May 3rd and 4th

The Kentucky Derby and the Mint Julep: two iconic and inseparable images that tell the story of bourbon and the fastest two minutes in sports entertainment as if they were one. There's just one problem: the horses change every year, so why shouldn't your cocktail of choice? We're not saying the classic Julep (Ice, mint, bourbon, sugar) is boring: it's a signature drink and there's a reason it never goes out of style. But this year why not bet on an underdog — why not try drinking something a little different?

There are still some rules. A good Derby cocktail still must be bright, refreshing, and provide at least an opportunity for hydrating in the Louisville sun. A great one will take something classic like the Julep and bring it to a new level without losing sight of heritage and tradition

Woodford's $1,000 Mint Julep is the big beverage feature of the Kentucky Derby, and Churchill Downs serves a limited number of them in gilded Julep cups every year. You might not want to drop the cash for the blinged-out cup that accounts for the ridiculous price tag, but here's this year's recipe for your own crafting.

RECIPE

- 1 1/2 oz. Woodford Reserve Kentucky Straight Bourbon
- 1/4 oz. Pimm's Liqueur
- 1/2 oz. Elderflower Cordial
- 1/4 oz. Woodford Reserve Mint Julep Simple Syrup
- Dash Earl Grey bitters
- Handful of mint

DIRECTIONS

Rub mint around the julep cup, expressing the essential oils. Add remaining ingredients and top with crushed ice. Churn ingredients with a bar spoon distributing the flavor. Top with additional crushed ice. Garnish with mint.

CHEF WESLEY'S FEATURE RECIPE

Slow Cooker Tortilla Soup

This Mexican-inspired chicken, tomato, and bean soup practically cooks itself. You can literally just drop the ingredients into a slow cooker and get on with the rest of your daily activities. The result is a hearty, flavourful soup that will satisfy the entire family.

INGREDIENTS

- 3 chicken thighs, skin removed
- 10-ounce can diced tomatoes with green chiles
- 1 1/2 cups cooked black beans
- 1 1/2 cups chicken broth
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 yellow onion, finely chopped
- 3 garlic cloves, finely minced
- 1 jalapeno, finely chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
- Juice of 1/2 lemon
- 20 tortilla chips
- 3 tablespoons finely chopped fresh cilantro
- 1/2 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese

DIRECTIONS

1. Place the chicken, tomatoes (and juices), beans, broth, water, onion, garlic, jalapeno, cumin, and chili powder in a slow cooker. Cover and cook on high for 3 to 4 hours or on low for 6 to 8 hours.
2. Uncover the slow cooker and use tongs to remove the chicken from the pot. Once cool enough to handle, remove the meat from the bones and shred, then return the meat to the pot. Stir in the lemon juice. Crumble a few tortilla chips into each bowl and cover with some soup. Serve sprinkled with cilantro and grated cheese.

ATHLETES

What to Eat and When for Top Performance

Hot off the press from three prominent nutrition and exercise associations—the American Dietetic Association, American College of Sports Medicine, and Dietitians of Canada—is the 2018 Joint Position Stand on Nutrition for Athletic Performance.

While there is little earth-shattering news in this comprehensive document, the authors comprehensively reviewed the research to determine which sports nutrition practices effectively enhance performance. Here are a few key points on what and when to eat to perform at your best.

1. Don't weigh yourself daily.

What you weigh and how much body fat you have should not be the sole criterion for judging how well you are able to perform in sports. That is, don't think that if you get to XX percent body fat, you will run faster. For one, all techniques to measure body fat have inherent errors. (Even BodPod can underestimate percent fat by two to three percent.) Two, optimal body fat levels depend on genetics and what is optimal for your unique body. Pay more attention to how you feel and perform than to a number on the scale.

2. Assess your protein needs.

Protein recommendations for both endurance and strength-trained athletes range from 0.5 to 0.8 grams per pound (1.2-1.7 g/kg) body weight. For a 150-lb. athlete, this comes to about 75 to 120 g protein per day, an amount most athletes easily consume through their standard diet without the use of protein supplements or amino acid supplements. Vegetarian athletes should target ten percent more, because some plant proteins (not soy but legumes) are less well digested than animal proteins. If you are just starting a weight-lifting program, you'll want to target the higher protein amount. Once you have built-up your muscles, the lower end of the range is fine.

3. Assess your carbohydrate needs.

Athletes in power sports need to pay attention to carbohydrates, and not just protein. That's because strength training depletes muscle glycogen stores. You can deplete about 25 percent to 35 percent of total muscle glycogen stores during a single 30-second bout of resistance exercise.

4. Meet your calorie needs.

Athletes who eat enough calories to support their athletic performance are unlikely to need vitamin supplements. But athletes who severely limit their food intake to lose weight (such as wrestlers, lightweight rowers, gymnasts), eliminate a food group (such as dairy, if they are lactose intolerant), or train indoors and get very little sunlight (skaters, gymnasts, swimmers) may require supplements.

5. Watch your iron.

If you are vegetarian, a blood donor, and/or a woman with heavy menstrual periods, you should pay special attention to your iron intake. If you consume too little iron, you can easily become deficient and be unable to exercise energetically due to anemia. Because reversing iron deficiency can take three to six months, your best bet is to prevent anemia by regularly eating iron-rich foods (lean beef, chicken thighs, enriched breakfast cereals such as Wheaties and Total) and including in each meal a source of vitamin C (fruits, vegetables).

6. Eating before hard exercise

As opposed to exercising in a fasted state, has been shown to improve performance. If you choose to not eat before a hard workout, at least consume a sports drink (or some source of energy) during exercise.

Lifesaving Courses

Bronze Medallion

Prerequisites: Bronze Star, recommended or / 13 years old by last day of course if candidate does not have Bronze Star.

Bronze Medallion teaches an understanding of the lifesaving principles embodied in the four components of water rescue education - judgment, knowledge, skill and fitness. Rescuers learn self - rescue techniques, defense and release methods, and tows and carries in preparation for challenging rescues involving conscious and unconscious victims of various types, including spinal injuries and circulatory emergencies. Lifesavers develop stroke efficiency and endurance in a timed swim. Bronze Medallion includes the CPRA certification.

Bronze Cross

Prerequisites: Bronze Medallion, must show proof of certification

Bronze Cross is designed for lifesavers who want the challenge of more advanced training including an introduction to safety supervision in aquatic facilities. Candidates develop proficiency at performing patient assessments, managing aquatic spinal injuries, and preventing the loss of life in a variety of aquatic emergencies, while developing stroke endurance and fitness training skills. Bronze Cross includes the CPR - C certification and is one of the pre - requisite awards for all advanced Lifeguarding and Leadership training programs. Bronze Cross is also worth 2 Grade 11 High School Credits.

National Lifeguard Training

NLS Core and Pool Option

Prerequisites: 16 years old, Standard First Aid, issued within 2 years, Bronze Cross - proof of certification

The primary role of the NLS lifeguard is the prevention of emergency situations and, where this fails, the timely and effective resolution of emergencies. The NLS award is designed to prepare lifeguards to fulfill this role as professional facilitators of safe, enjoyable aquatics. NLS training is designed to teach the principles and develop the basic lifeguarding skills and decision - making processes that will help lifeguards evaluate and adapt to different aquatic facilities and emergencies. The NLS Pool option builds on the fundamental skills, knowledge and values taught in the NLS core course to train lifeguards in safety supervision and rescue in a pool environment.

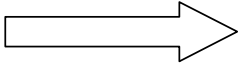

Swimming for Adults

Masters at NSWC

Masters is for people who enjoy swimming for fitness and recreation and who wish to improve their swimming ability. We offer regular, structured training sessions under the watchful eye of a swim coach. Practices emphasize stroke improvement, cardiovascular activity, and progressive fitness training.

The North Shore swim program, being only three stages in length, serves to cover our entire ten step swim program. With this in mind, once you’ve found out what stage the child is in, clarify how far along the given stage the child is. Eg. If they are in I CAN SWIM Stage two but only just passed into it and are still not quite able to swim ten meters of front crawl but can kick on their front, back and side for 10m then they would move into Swim Kids 4 as they wouldn’t meet the skills required for Swim Kids 5. If the parent truly has no idea but knows the child has been in the stage for a decent amount of time, simply put them into the intermediate level of the Swim Stage there in.

If They Were in This Program In North Vancouver 		Then They Can Register In This Program In Red Cross (NSWC/West Vancouver)
I CAN SWIM – Stage One	Beginner stage One: still not comfortable in the water, trouble submerging head or going horizontal in the water (eg. floating on their front or back)	Swim Kids 1
I CAN SWIM – Stage One	Intermediate Stage One: Able to submerge head, can do horizontal glides through the water	Swim Kids 2
I CAN SWIM – Stage One	Advanced Stage: Able to kick for five meters or more without stopping on front or back glides	Swim Kids 3
I CAN SWIM- Stage Two	Beginner Stage Two: Able to kick on front, back and side without stopping for up to 10 meters	Swim Kids 4
I CAN SWIM – Stage Two	Intermediate Stage Two: Able to swim front crawl for 10m and kick on their back for 15m	Swim Kids 5
I CAN SWIM –Stage Two	Advanced Stage Two: Able to do front and back crawl for 15m at a time, comfortable in deep water (our level 6 occurs in the deep end of the main pool)	Swim Kids 6
I CAN SWIM – Stage Three	Beginner Stage Two: Able to do front and back crawl for 25m, knows whip kick and how to do Elementary back crawl	Swim Kids 7
I CAN SWIM- Stage Three	Intermediate Stage Two: Able to do proficient front and back crawl for 50m. Capable of doing whip kick on their front and back	Swim Kids 8
I CAN SWIM – Stage Three	Advanced Stage Three: Able to swim front and back crawl well for 100m. Knows how to do Breast Stroke and Elementary Back stroke	Swim Kids 9
I CAN SWIM – Stage Three	Advanced Stage Three: A very good swimmer, able to do front, back, elementary backstroke, and breaststroke very well and can swim 500m at a time.	Swim Kids 10

Marlins Swim Program

The NSWC's Marlins Swim Team develops competitive swimmers of all ages in a fun and focused environment. Training in NSWC's outdoor pool facility between May and mid - August, athletes focus on stroke (freestyle, butterfly, backstroke, breaststroke) and race (dive starts, turns, streamlines and breakouts) techniques toward continual individual improvement, within a strong team context. Guided by Marlins' coaches, each swimmer sets personal goals and develops a complimentary training and competition schedule to support success. Depending on goals and commitment, swimmers can attend upwards of 120 swim practices and ten two - day swim meets, plus Regional and Provincial.

Championships, over the course of our short season. While Marlins provides high intensity cross - training for athletes, many quickly get the bug to race. Competition allows a swimmer to showcase their progress, and to contribute to the team's points (collected at meets), but most importantly, to create memories of a lifetime alongside their teammates in Marlinville.

Marlins offers five divisions for swimmers aligned to age and/or skill:

Mini Marlins

Ages: 5 yrs +

This division is geared to our youngest swimmers and those new to swimming. Must be able to completely submerge their body under water and be able to push off from the wall without assistance.

Intro Marlins

These swimmers can swim the length of a pool without assistance and will begin to learn proper swimming techniques.

Juniors, Intermediates & Seniors

In these divisions, swimmers build - on and refine skills and techniques already developed. Coaching staff will assess Marlins for group placement.*

For swimmers in division 5 and up who have been with the Marlins the previous two seasons, our Returning Marlin option allows the swimmer to participate in up to 20 practices. Certain restrictions apply. Many of our swimmers begin as Minis and continue to the Senior ranks, with many becoming Junior Leaders and even Coaches; a testament to the strength and value of our program. Come and join us for another fantastic season in 2019!

PROGRAM DATES

Program runs from May 1 - Aug 7, 2019 (except for Provincial Qualifiers who practice until August 15). Juniors, Intermediates and Seniors practice Monday through Friday, morning and afternoon. Mini Marlins begin May 13. An optional two - week trial runs from May 13 - 24.

CLASS DESCRIPTIONS

Strength and Circuit

Fitness is coming!! This is your ultimate one hour strength & conditioning workout. Suitable for all fitness levels, each class focuses on the whole body incorporating strength and power training, aerobic and anaerobic conditioning, agility, core strengthening and mobility. Every session is different from the one before but programmed with intent on overall improvement.

Stretch

This class is designed to improve your flexibility, mobility as well as decrease some minor aches and pains. Sessions will include a variety of stretching and mobility techniques. Music will be playing and social interaction is encouraged!

Cardio & Core

The cardio section of this class incorporates high intensity, interval training using Treadmills, Rowing Machines, Spin Bikes and Air Bikes. Every session begins with a dynamic warm-up ensuring your body is prepared for the workout ahead. The latter portion of the session we focus on Core Strengthening and Midline Stabilization using TRX, Med Balls, Stability Balls, Bands and Mats. Workouts are constantly varied with the goal of continuous improvement.

Pilates

This class will improve flexibility, balance, coordination and agility. Pilates makes the body stronger and leaner through targeting specific muscle groups through body weight and strength. With focus on flexibility, you will see improved balance, coordination, agility, and also prevent injury. You can also expect a heightened sense of mind-body connection, as breath work is an integral part of this training - not only as a method to clear the mind and bring about focus, but also as a tool to engage the core more effectively.

Hatha Yoga

Focusing on alignment and the basic shapes of yoga asana, this class integrates the importance of breathing and movement to create balance. Ideal for those just starting a yoga practice as there is time and space to receive personal attention and clarification on the postures. There is also opportunity to deepen your existing practice and as such, each class is structured around the needs of those students. If you are looking to open your hips, strengthen your arms/shoulders and stretch out that lower back, this class is for you.

Gentle Hatha / Yin Yoga

A midweek break to restore and relax. Join us for an evening of heart opening and hip/back stretching. Sitting at a desk, walking/hiking/skating/running - all tighten up the fronts of your legs and round you through the back. After this class you will feel taller and more open; more supple and calm - relaxed from the inside -out. essential oils, blankets...ahhh.

Powerflow Hatha

Get a jump on your weekend with this energizing, yet balancing class. Based in alignment and contingent on student's levels we begin with a full body stretch and warm up. Poses deepen, quicken and build both in intensity as well as pace as we approach the vinyasa series. Sun Salutations often represent the peak of the class ensuring increased heart rate and the sense of accomplishment. The class winds down with poses geared to continue the process of opening/lengthening but also to connect and slow down. Based on who attends, time will be allotted for "Play" so that those interested can practice more challenging balance poses if desired. A fun, social class open to all, geared to those willing to "try".

Tennis Level of Play/Self-Rating Guide

Before registering for any of our programs or joining our leagues, take a look at the rating guide below to help you find the program that's right for you. Find the level that best describes your general level of play during a match.

LEVEL	GROUNDSTROKES	RETURN OF SERVE	NET PLAY	SERVE
1.0	I'm just starting to play tennis
1.5	I've been introduced to the game, but have difficulty playing due to my lack of consistent rallying and serving.
2.0	I can get to the ball, but lack control so my rallying is inconsistent. I often choose forehand instead of backhand.	I have inconsistent returns and tend to position myself to protect my weaknesses	In singles, I'm reluctant to come to the net. In doubles, I understand the basic positions and I am comfortable with forehand volleys (but avoid backhand volleys & overhead shots).	My toss is inconsistent and my service motion incomplete. Double faults common.
2.5	I can consistently rally 10 balls in a row over the net at moderate speed with an arced trajectory (especially forehand shots).	In singles, I can consistently return shots to the middle of the court. In doubles, I have difficulty returning cross-court to start the point.	I'm at ease at the net during practice, but still uncomfortable during a game.	I try a full service motion on my first serve, but it is still inconsistent (< 50%). I use an incomplete motion to ensure a steady second serve.
3.0	I can consistently rally 10 balls in a row using forehands and backhands. I'm able to maintain a moderately paced rally when receiving high, wide or short balls.	I can control the direction of the ball when receiving moderately paced serves.	I'm very consistent on moderately paced balls to my forehand, but still inconsistent on my backhand. I have overall difficulty with low and wide balls.	I have full motion on both serves and can achieve more than 50% success on my first serve; however, my second serve is much slower than the first.
3.5	I can make my opponent move around the court, hit harder when I receive easier balls, and perform approach shots with more than 50% consistency.	I can return fast or well-placed serves defensively, return an easier serve with pace or placement, and approach the net in doubles.	I'm becoming consistent on volleys & overheads requiring moderate movement. I can direct forehand volleys and control backhand volleys with little offense, but have general difficulty putting volleys away.	I can vary the speed or direction of a first serve and can direct the second serve to my opponent's weakness without double-faulting on a regular basis.
4.0	I'm able to develop points consistently by using a combination of shots; however, I'm erratic when attempting a passing shot or a quality shot from a fast or well-placed ball.	I have difficulty returning very fast or spin serves, but I can hit a good shot or exploit my opponent's weakness on moderately paced serves. In doubles, I can vary returns effectively on moderately paced serves.	I can follow an approach shot to net, poach on weak returns and put away easy overheads. In doubles, I can receive a variety of balls and volley offensively.	I can vary the speed and direction of the first serve and I can use spin.
4.5	I can use a variety of spins and am beginning to develop a dominant shot or good steadiness. I'm still erratic when attempting a quality shot in two of the following: when receiving fast balls, wide balls or in passing shot situations.	I can defend consistently off first serves, but am still inconsistent when trying an aggressive return (< 30%). In doubles, I have difficulty returning a first serve to the feet of the incoming serve and volleyer.	When coming to the net after serving, I'm consistently able to put the first volley in play but without pace or depth. Close to the net, I can finish a point using various options including drop, angle and punch volleys. I'm still inconsistent when trying to volley powerful or angled returns.	I have an aggressive first serve with power and spin. On second serves, I frequently hit with good depth and placement (without double faults). In doubles, I can serve and volley off first serves but still experience some inconsistency.
5.0	I am able to maintain a consistent rally, 10 balls in a row on faster balls. I have very steady strokes or a dominant shot. I periodically succeed (50%) when attempting a quality shot when receiving fast or wide balls, and in passing shot situations.	I periodically succeed (50%) at aggressive return off fast first serves using dominant shot (forehand or backhand). In doubles I can return at the feet of serve and volleyer.	In doubles, after the serve, I have a good, deep crosscourt volley. Overhead I can hit from almost any position.	My first serve can win points outright, or force a weak return. My second serve can prevent the opponent from attacking. I can serve and volleys on first serves in doubles with consistency.

Why Playing Multiple Sports is Beneficial to Kids

In this day and age when trophies and scholarships dominate youth athletics, kids are being pushed to specialize in a single sport as early as their pre-teen years. Driven by the professionalization of youth sports, coaches and parents alike have turned their focus to making kids young experts in their sport of choice.

"It'll help prevent injury," some explain. Others caution that without specialization, kids will "fall behind" or be unable to "play at the next level."

But these claims are nothing more than myths that are often at odds with the well-being of our children. In reality, countless benefits of playing multiple sports are being forgotten in the midst of the specialization craze. For starters, improving fitness, motivation, confidence and creativity. But perhaps more importantly: playing for the sake of the game itself and in doing so, having some plain and simple, old-fashioned fun.

It's time to put the myths to bed. In reality, kids only stand to gain from playing multiple sports. Here's why:

Specializing actually leads to greater chance of injuries.

Instead of sharpening their overall athleticism in a well-rounded way, specialized athletes are repeating the same movements with the same sets of muscles every day of the week. This has led to a dramatic rise in the need for Tommy John surgery and reconstructive surgery of elbow ligaments—to cite just two examples.

Sports skills and athletic movements transfer.

Jumping for a basketball works the same muscles swimmers use to push off the starting blocks and develop a strong kick. A full 87 percent of 2015 NFL draft picks were multi-sport athletes, and the average number of multi-sport athletes in the NFL hovers around 70 percent. It's not surprising when you consider that quickness, running, jumping, agility, throwing and countless other moves are all transferable skills.

Multi-sport athletes learn to compete.

Each sport requires its own unique levels of focus and resiliency. Some games, like baseball, are more drawn out and require long-term attention punctuated with quick action. Other sports are all about pacing and endurance. The broader the exposure young athletes get to these different conditions, the better. Resiliency and focus, too, are transferable skills.

Multi-sport athletes have a greater sports I.Q.

They develop a feel for any game they are playing. Ever heard about football players taking ballet classes? This helps not just to transfer athletic movements, but also to enhance their appreciation for different types of movements. Thanks to cross-training, multi-sport athletes are overall more creative and less mechanical in their approach.

multi-sport athletes.

It doesn't take long for kids to fizzle from going to five must-do showcase events and traveling every weekend in the summer. Ultimately, they stop enjoying the process. The balance and variety that comes from playing multiple sports offers keeps young athletes alert, engaged and, literally, on their toes.

Multi-sport athletes are better teammates.

They've got lots of experience at it! They're used to interacting with a variety of teammates and coaches within different contexts. This is priceless training for athletics of all sorts and life.

Remember, too: grit, tenacity and the will to compete are traits that transfer across all sports. In applying the essential lessons from one sport to others, kids are better athletes overall. Cultivating these while building character is the true purpose of youth sports, which above all serves as a metaphor for life.

A photograph of the North Shore Winter Club building. In the foreground, a large tree with green and yellowing leaves stands next to a large pile of fallen autumn leaves. The building is made of brick and has several windows. A sign on the brick wall reads "NORTH SHORE WINTER CLUB". To the right, there is an entrance with a sign that says "PICK-UP & DROP-OFF ONLY" and "EXIT ONLY".
